

Trial orchard in Vienna

A trial orchard is run under the leadership of DI Peter Modl and Rudolf Unger, substitute president of the expert group of Vienna. In this educational garden different fruit sorts have been planted, respectively have been pruned on specific supports in order to get so called family trees. Several sorts of the same fruit have been pruned on those trees. This represents a certain advantage for the pollination and the buds.

Additionally, during cutting courses, the interested young expert advisers have learned how to cut the most diverse forms of trees. We also offer courses for winter, summer and green cutting of fruit trees within educational programmes for expert advisers. The most important point is pruning.

This trial garden is situated in the Grädenerweg in the 21st district of Vienna. There you can find pear, apple, prune, mirabelle, peach and morello trees. In total there are 80 different kinds of fruit trees as well as berries and bushes.
