

Allotments: Extremely valuable – grossly underestimated – shockingly unknown

On January 26th we first published an article presenting the valuable contribution of the allotment gardeners to safeguard an important knowhow and then on February 20th we published another article concerning the allotment gardeners' contribution for a healthy nature. On June 2nd you could read an article on the social function assumed by the members of our international allotment movement.

As appendix you find now an insight in a fourth subject: „The allotment gardeners and environment protection”, also worked out by Chris ZIJDEVELD, President of the AVVN (the Dutch allotment garden federation) and former president of the International Office. This subject shows some examples on how the allotment garden members of the International Office contribute to the protection of environment.

One last subject will follow.
