

The BKD science prize enters the next round

The Bundesverband der Kleingartenvereine Deutschlands e. V. (BKD) (formerly Bundesverband Deutscher Gartenfreunde e. V., BDG), the umbrella organisation of the allotment garden movement in Germany, awards the science prize every four years to scientists and students who deal with the allotment garden movement and forward-looking ideas on the ecological, urban planning and social function of allotment gardens.

Research in the fields of urban, regional and landscape planning, horticultural sciences, climate geography, landscape ecology, nature and environmental protection as well as health and nutrition is required.

The next deadline for entries is 31 March 2027, so in theory there is still plenty of time to get started on one or two new research projects!

- Teams of scientists and students, editors or the authors themselves are eligible to enter.
- Prize money totalling 5,000 euros is available to honour the work.
- The BKD also expressly welcomes English-language works! The works for the current competition must be from the period 2023 to 2027.

Further information can be found in the appendix and at

<https://kleingarten-bund.de/veranstaltungen/wettbewerbe/wissenschaftspreis-2/>

We would be delighted if you could help us publicise the BKD Science Award among interested parties - whether on your website, as a notice or via your social media channels.

For this purpose, we provide you with graphic templates in the appendix . You are welcome to use the short text:

The Bundesverband der Kleingartenvereine Deutschlands e. V. (BKD) honours with the BKD Science Prize scientific work that deals with forward-looking ideas on the subject of allotment gardens. Scientists and students can apply for the award

<https://kleingarten-bund.de/de/bundesverband/BDG-Wissenschaftspreis> .

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Yours sincerely

The project team of the science prize

Contact:

Federal Federation of German Allotment Garden Associations e. V.

wissenschaftspreis@kleingarten-bund.de

BKD Wissenschaftspreis 2027

We want to find out!
Research on allotment gardens

The awards are given for studies

with forward-looking ideas
on the subject of allotment gardens

and for green, climate-friendly and social urban and municipal development

More about the competition procedure at

<https://kleingarten-bund.de/award>

 BKD
Bundesverband
der Kleingartenvereine Deutschlands e. V.